Why do most of my phrases are from Dr. House?

Because as a translator of a French subtitles team, I thought it would be normal for me to use this work for my English, and take some of the phrases I've noticed.

I translate seven minutes from English subtitles to French ones each week (something like 80 to 130 lines, it depends). I'm not trying to be pretentious; this is just for information, to explain my situation.

I've only attached one of the scripts I've worked on, because I'm doing that by passion, not as a bonus.
